HISTORY OF WORLD CONGRESS OF ACCOUNTANTS

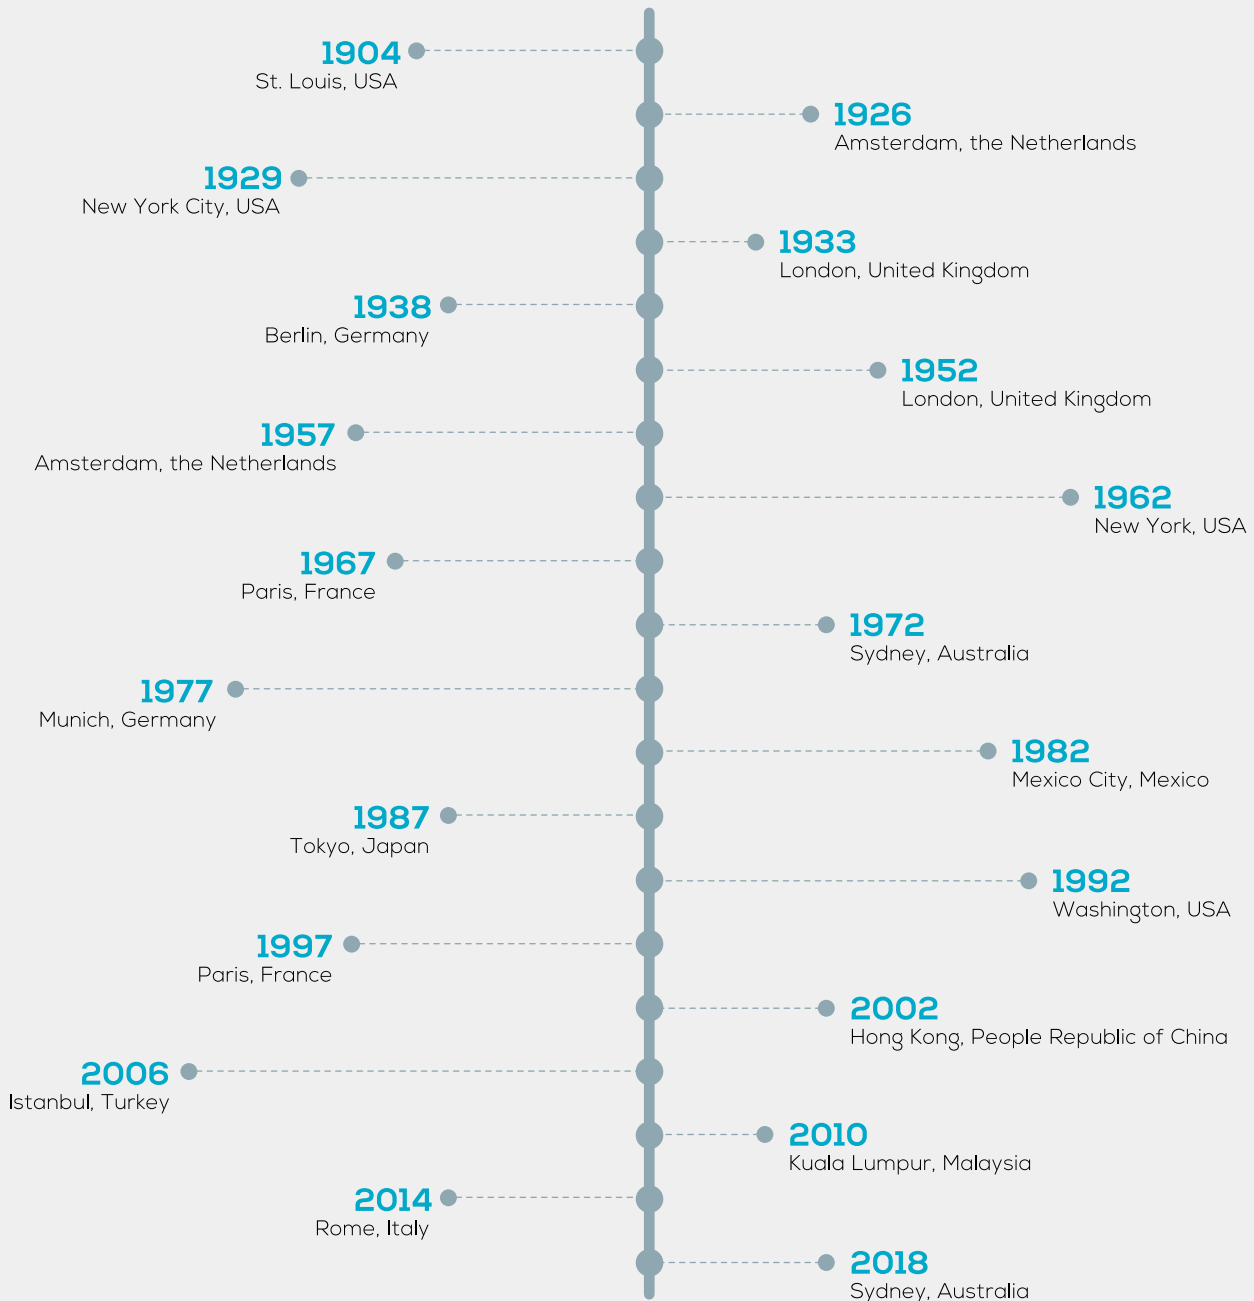

Taken from 1972 Pictorial Supplement of the Congress for The Australian Accountant and The Chartered Accountant.

The World Congress of Accountants was first held more than 118 years ago, at the dawn of the 20th century. In 1904, the world was changing; Henry Ford set a land speed record; the USA took control of the Panama Canal; UK and France signed the Entente Cordiale and Australia elected its first national government.

From that first event, subsequent conferences have been woven between major global events including the Great Depression and two World Wars. Today the World Congress of Accountants is a large-scale, international event which occurs, like The Olympic Games, every four years.

With the 21st Anniversary Conference due to be held in India in November 2022, we take a look back on the accounting event's history.

Message of the President, ICAI

Namaste

In the current competitive and volatile business environment, profession demands that we build and maintain trust between the organization, its stakeholders, and the society. The profession of accountancy has been the synonym of trust for centuries together and the recent crisis inflicted upon by the pandemic has raised global awareness towards Sustainable Value Creation (SVC). The professional relevance for sustainability has been advocated by the need for enhanced corporate reporting which can evolve and expand to deliver the right information to shareholders, regulators, and the public. The accountancy profession is recognized as an important driver for strong and sustainable economies and financial markets as accountants are the conscience keepers of society.

While the world economy has witnessed the advent of digital revolution and is trying to assimilate and embrace the changes, there has been a steady increase in the adoption of Fintech, specifically in India. With the average age of startup founders at a mere 28 years, the country is home to many of the youngest entrepreneurs in the world and has now emerged as a global innovation hub with the world's third-largest startup ecosystem. As per the forecast by World Bank, India is poised to be one of the fastest growing emerging markets in the world.

The rich heritage of India which is one of the world's oldest civilizations, is a confluence of religions, traditions and customs and is signified by its art, architecture, classical dances, music, flora and fauna and picturesque landscapes.

We, at ICAI are pleased to host you here in Mumbai, the financial capital of India for the 21st World Congress of Accountants with the theme "Building Trust Enabling Sustainability" from November 18-21, 2022, and give you a professionally enriching and personally rejuvenating experience.

We are hopeful that the conference shall be stimulating and productive and your stay in India will be a memorable experience.

Once again, we invite you for this enthralling convergence in India- The land of multicultural, historical, and spiritual inheritance since centuries.

Message of the President, IFAC

Alan Johnson
President, International Federation of Accountants

The World Congress of Accountants (WCOA) is the premier event for the accountancy profession. Since 1904 it has been a forum for thought leadership and a global exchange of views. It is an important point of connection for our professional from across the world together with our many stakeholders.

Excitement is building for the 21st WCOA in Mumbai, the first to be held in South Asia. All participants look forward to engaging with the profession's global agenda and to learning from ICAI's experience, since its foundation in 1949, in building the Indian accountancy profession and as a partner contributing to the development of the the Indian economy and society.

ICAI has provided 73 years of remarkable service to the profession and the public interest. In 2020 no organization was quicker to digitalize its offerings than ICAI, and at that moment of great uncertainty ICAI made its wealth of resources freely available online for accountants everywhere. This is the spirit and embodiment of service to the public interest, and a great credit to India as an important leader in the accountancy profession.

The global agenda for the profession is full of promising opportunities and weighty challenges. The time is now for collaboration – with speed – to respond to these developments and to anticipate issues on the horizon.

There is no better time than now, and no better place than India, to have these conversations.

In the year India celebrates its 75th anniversary, and as it takes over the Presidency of the G20, we look forward to welcoming you to Mumbai in November.

भारत में आपका स्वागत है
